KZN Premier Senzo Mchunu safe at home

The Office of the Premier has received queries following media reports about an accident involving a vehicle used by his bodyguards.

We can confirm that a back-up car used by his protectors was involved in an accident. The cause of the accident is being investigated by police.

At the time of the accident, the premier was home after a meeting held under the auspices of the Premier's Co-ordinating Forum. The meeting which was held in Durban was attended by MECs, Heads of Departments and mayors.

Issues that came under the discussion included results of Community Satisfaction Survey, drought and water shortage, status on the provision electricity and the state of readiness for the local government elections.
